STAT

The Director has requested this Office to reply to your letter dated 7 April 1952 with reference to your application for employment.

STAT

As [redacted] advised you verbally and as [redacted] advised you by letter dated 7 April 1952, we regret that we have no position available at this time which we can offer you. During recent weeks the Agency has undergone certain internal reorganizational changes which have had a direct effect upon our staffing requirements. Positions which were vacant several weeks ago have now been abolished. Unfortunately, the position for which you were being considered falls within this category and we cannot predict at this time our needs in the future for persons possessing your talents and skills.

STAT

Please be assured that we will retain your application papers and should any position develop in the future which would utilize effectively your education, training, and experience we will be most happy to get in touch with you.

We appreciate the time and effort you have spent with us and we are sorry that the outcome could not have been more favorable at this time.

Very truly yours,
